

My Famous Cousin...Halle

1 X 60' ITV2 (SERIES IN DEVELOPMENT)

Halle Maria Berry is one of the world's most famous women, a Hollywood superstar with a Best Actress Oscar, a supersized bank account, luxury Hollywood homes and a supermodel boyfriend.

Lauren Jenni Charlesworth, one of the world's least famous women, is a 21 year-old student at University in the North of England.

And what Lauren and Halle don't know is that they're related by blood, because Halle's great great grandparents are Lauren's great great great grandparents too.

But that's all about to change when Rob Rouse, British comedian, actor, and distant cousin himself to 1980s pop star Nik Kershaw, surprises Lauren with this awe-inspiring news.

Once Lauren gets over the shock, Rob offers her the opportunity of a lifetime to go with him on a seven-day mission across America.

Her challenge? To meet the family she never knew she had, find out as much about her superstar cousin as possible, and maybe, just maybe meet Halle herself.

So what happens when Lauren arrives in Cleveland, Ohio, the town where Halle grew up? And then in Hollywood, does Lauren finally get to meet her famous cousin?

My Famous Cousin...Halle documents a chronological account of two people's journey across America, as they desperately try to set up the leads that will bring Lauren to Halle's door. But will she open it to them?

With thousands of people around the world just like Lauren, unaware they're related to a famous superstar, My Famous Cousin...Halle introduces the new aspirational 60-minute format from Steadfast that boasts everything – drama, entertainment, jeopardy, celebrity, excitement, tears and lots and lots of laughter.
